WELCOME

Education and training provide a significant advantage when combined with high quality, hands-on experience. I bring over 25 years of experience to every matter that I handle for every client, and I use my education, training and experience to achieve superior results for my clients in the court room, the conference room and in alternative dispute resolution.

I graduated from the Emory University School of Law in 1985, and I have been practicing law continuously in Atlanta since that time. I have achieved an AV Preeminent peer review rating by Martindale-Hubbell (the highest possible rating) and I am one of Georgia's Top Rated Lawyers for Civil Litigation. I am also a Registered Neutral with the Georgia Office of Dispute Resolution, and a Certified Arbitrator for the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA). These achievements are the direct result of my dedication to serving the needs and interests of my clients in the best manner possible.

Being results-oriented gives me an advantage in litigation and alternative dispute resolution. I have won substantial awards for my clients through diligence, tireless dedication and preparation. My background and experience allows me to see clearly what the best possible strategy is for every matter that I handle. Sometimes litigation is the correct route to the results you desire – and the trouble, time and expense is worth it. However, at times alternative dispute resolution (ADR) is a superior strategy. I draw on my education, background and experience in the matters that I handle to advise my clients as to the best way of dealing with their situation. The law is not one-size-fits-all.

I bring the highest level of dedication to each of my clients, and my clients benefit from my experience and my results-focused strategies. I am always honored when my clients choose me to represent them.

5 REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD RETAIN
SCOTT SCHWEBER
TO REPRESENT YOU AND YOUR BUSINESS

Whether you own and operate a small business, or manage a local or regional office of a global corporation, you deal with a wide range of legal and business issues every day. In addition to issues that are specific to your company, there are the concerns that most owners and managers deal with on a routine basis, including insurance, banking, real estate, contracts, collections and partnership/shareholder issues. Whether you are being proactive to avoid problems before they arise, or are dealing with a specific issue, there are many benefits to retaining civil litigation attorney Scott Schweber to represent you and your business.

1 Partnership

When you hire Scott Schweber to represent you and your business, you will get to know each other very well. Scott will ask a lot of questions, while gaining a real understanding of what your business does, and how it operates. His clients' businesses are as important to him as his own. Scott believes in long-term relationships. It is the foundation of his law practice.

2 Analysis and Assessment

Scott will take the time necessary to understand your preferences, your needs, and the requirements of your company. As an experienced civil litigation attorney, he will provide invaluable advice when business owners and managers are dealing with issues that arise every day in the world of commerce. Whether you are negotiating a contract, dealing with a problem customer or supplier, bringing a lawsuit or defending one, Scott will evaluate and analyze the situation, and assess the likelihood of success or potential exposure. Getting Scott involved early enhances the likelihood of achieving the best outcome possible.

3 Strategy

As a litigation attorney with 29 years of legal experience, Scott has a keen ability to develop a strategy that will bring results. He routinely deals with strategic issues such as whether to file suit, whether to pursue alternative dispute resolution, and the timing of legal action. Scott's overall goal when developing a strategy is to preserve his clients' legal rights and obtain the best possible result in the most efficient manner.

4 Execution

Scott possesses the education, training, and experience necessary to get the job done. He typically advises clients to avoid litigation when possible. However, sometimes litigation is unavoidable. Whether the case involves a breach of contract, a shareholder dispute, collection of a commercial account, an insurance claim or a real estate issue, Scott has the experience necessary to handle your case in a prompt and efficient manner with the goal of achieving superior results.

5 Actionable Advice

Scott's clients consider him to be a trusted advisor. He spends a significant amount of time everyday speaking with his clients, and providing advice as to the issues that business owners and managers confront everyday. Whether Scott is providing legal advice, finding a solution to a problem, or helping transform an idea to reality, he is very involved with his clients on a highly personal level. Scott is committed to his clients and the cases that he handles. He is a zealous advocate, who for over 29 years has put the best interests of his client first.
